Including all branches and wholly owned subsidiaries

Prepared in accordance with Section 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, No 2 of 2000. (Private Body)

Last Updated: 1 November 2004

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. The Promotion of Access to Information Act, No 2 of 2000 ("the Act") was enacted on 3 February 2000, giving effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by the State and any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. Where a request is made in terms of the Act, the body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information may or must not be released. The Act sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to such request.

1.2. PURPOSE OF THE MANUAL

This manual is intended to foster a culture of transparency and accountability.

In order to promote effective governance of private bodies, it is necessary to ensure that everyone is empowered and educated to understand their rights in terms of the Act in order for them to exercise their rights in relation to public and private bodies.

Section 9 of the Act however recognises that such right to access to information cannot be unlimited and should be subject to justifiable limitations, including, but not limited to:

- Limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;
- Commercial confidentiality; and
- Effective, efficient and good governance;

and in a manner which balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

Whenever reference is made in this manual to "Private Body" it will refer to Business Partners Ltd including all branches and wholly owned subsidiaries, for whom this manual is drafted.
